We need more Rotarians committed to being living examples of our motto: Service Above Self. Active Rotarians are busy professionals who take the time to give life to the premise that we are People of Action, not just people with our name on the club roster. There is a saying that "many hands make the work easier." When we work together, "The Magic of Rotary" fascinates the world. Our club can use more Rotarians to help make the vision of improved community and life a reality.

When the United States of America had a military draft in place, there was still an ongoing recruitment program underway. A photo of Uncle Sam was in front of every Post Office with a finger pointing at passers-by. The slogan was a call to serve. Each time our nation has a national crisis, volunteers rise to the challenge. We are at that juncture as a club.

We not only want you, but we need you to become a model of engagement and difference making. As others see our involvement in creating change, maybe, just maybe, they will see our organization as a "simply irresistible" organism inviting them to join us in our quest to make our world a better place in which to live. The exemplary nature of our activity and commitment to Rotary, its values, its programs, our community, and our world will create an attitude of cooperation, collaboration, and camaraderie that will draw others like ants to a piece of bread. Helping those in need has a tendency to attract others.

Volunteer to serve. Answer the appeal of our new club president. I believe you will not have to do all the work.

Someone has to do it. Why not you? You, our community, and our world will be better for your service.

Hootens is Coming! Hootens is Coming

Hootens Football is coming to Pine Bluff on July 18, 2024 to visit the Rotary Club of West Pine and share its outlook on the upcoming season with representatives of football programs across southeast Arkansas. We will start at 11:30 AM rather than our usual Noon start time. The meeting is always a great gathering and time of fellowship. Join us at the Pine Bluff Country Club for information and inspiration. You will not want to miss it.
