PROGRAM

Jim Evers started with a great zero gravity joke, and then he shared more information about himself. Jim joined Intel in 1994 and is an Arizona native. He and his wife, Kristen, committed to coming to Ohio before they even knew Ohio would be chosen!

He prioritizes the 4 Fs in his life: Faith, Family, Fab and Fun. Jim also enjoys playing pick-up basketball at Granville High School.

Jim showed several videos that highlighted what Intel does and the values the organization is committed to.

He shared why semiconductors matter, including that chips are essential stating they are basically the new oil – they are in everything.

Intel believes in using "tech as a force for good" and highlighted how chips have led to advancement in healthcare, commitment to education, growing local economies, prioritizing the environment, and has even helped farmers.

He ended by answering questions from the audience and noted:

"Don't be encumbered by history; go off and do something wonderful."

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

*"Without change there is no innovation, creativity, or incentive for improvement. Those who initiate change will have a better opportunity to manage the change that is inevitable."
– William Pollard*
