Rotary Recap

December 11, 2014
By Jim Paxton

A Rotary Club of Green Valley (RCGV) tradition continued Thursday with Green Valley High School (GVHS) hosting the club for a delicious breakfast in the school's library. As the members entered, beautiful holiday music was provided by the GVHS jazz ensemble and a string orchestra. The school's culinary department provided omelets, crepes, sausage and fresh fruit with all the condiments anyone could desire.

Following the chance to enjoy food and conversation with Rotarians, GVHS students, and staff, President Jack Ewing called the meeting to order and then led the group in the pledge of allegiance. Pres Jack asked his fellow Rotarians to introduce family and guests. Mel Wick, a visiting Rotarian from Harbor, WN told the audience that he has visited 125 different Rotary Clubs on five different continents. Mel brought us a banner from his club and Pres Jack promised to send him a RCGV banner after he collected Mel's address. Pending member and Rotarian from Chino, Debbie Mitsch, introduced herself. Jerry Holinski introduced his two children, Daniel and Grace. Past member Shannon Hoolihan was the guest of Jon. Christine Smith introduced her husband Raymond Chapman, and Jay Larson introduced his wife, Michele. GVHS student of the month Khadija Bhatti and her mother Shazia Bhatti were introduced along with the new GVHS Principal, Kent Roberts.

Pres Jack thanked the members for attending our Club holiday party at Rachel and Jack's Green Valley Home before calling on President-Elect and Projects Chairman Duane Frizell to list the coming holiday events. Santa Jon Hoolihan will be delivering clothes to the homeless at Catholic Charities on Saturday, December 24th, in his festive, red armored car. Rotarian volunteers will help Santa Jon deliver the clothes during two shifts, 10:00 a.m. to noon and another shift from noon to 2:00 p.m. Santa will leave his office at 652 Middlegate at 11:00 a.m. sharp. Darcy Dougherty is coordinating the event. Contact her with your clothing items or to schedule time as a volunteer.

Three toy deliveries are scheduled by Santa Jon on December 20th, December 22, and on December 23rd. Santa Jon and his red armored Santa car will leave his office at 11:00 a.m. sharp, at 622 Middlegate, for each toy delivery.

Following announcements, Past Pres Mike Peterson introduced GVHS student of the month Khadija Bhatti. She is ranked number one in her senior class with an amazing 4.8 GPA. Khadija has made straight A's during her entire high school career. Khadija is a member of Mu Alpha Theta, National Honor Society, Science Olympiad, Varsity Quiz, and she serves as the team leader of the "Junior Volunteer" program at St. Rose Siena Hospital. She drew high praise from her teachers. One said "She is one of the hardest working students that I have." Another said, "She's comfortable in her own skin and exhibits leadership traits that will allow her to be successful in anything that she does in the future."

Khadija is interested in studying pre-med, biochemistry, or political science. She has applied to the University of Pennsylvania, University of Chicago, Brown University, and UNLV.

Mike P. invited Khadija to speak to the Club. She said that it is an honor to be in the presence of community leaders like the Rotarians, whom she called great role models. She thanked her teachers for their leadership.

GVHS Principal Kent Roberts next stepped up to introduce the GVHS Madrigal Singers who had just returned from a successful performance at Disneyland. Director Kim Ritzer praised her group that she characterized as honor students, athletes, and amazing musicians. "You won't read about their troubles in the newspapers," she said with a smile.

The Madrigals, dressed in medieval costumes, performed "Jingle Bells", "Silver Bells", and "Go Tell It on the Mountain." The harmonies were beautiful and the choreography, consisting of hand gestures and simple movements, was quite impressive.

Interact coordinator Bob Hulshouser introduced the club's Sponsor, Rachel Bleeker. GVHS Interact will be helping with our Christmas projects.

Next Principal Kent Roberts introduced himself as someone very fortunate to work at a school where so many fine programs are in place. He praised Madrigal Director Kim Ritzer, jazz ensemble conductor Cara Froelich, and orchestra director Shelly Burger.

Finally, Jack thanked the culinary department for the fine breakfast. The meeting ended following the raffle drawing and the membership reciting the Four Way Test.
