Rotary Recap: December 29, 2016 By: Brad Marx & Jim Paxton

President Bob Hulshouser rang the bell to start the Rotary Club Green Valley (RCGV) meeting at 7:00 a.m. The meeting was a Club Assembly, during which members are updated on Club events, goals and service projects.

Once everyone made their way through the buffet line, Christine Smith lead the group recital of the Pledge of Allegiance. This was followed by an inspirational quote chosen by President Bob, and the introduction of guests by Debbie Mitsch. Visitors included Stacy Mulligan's son, and birthday boy, Joey; Steve Barta, a visiting Rotarian from Reno; and, Barb Malaney, a visiting Rotarian from Springfield.

Immediately following opening protocols, President Bob continued with the following announcements:

- Funding for the Interact club at Nevada State College of Nevada was processed following approval of the Club's charter by Rotary International.
- The next Rotary Roundup will take place at Black Mountain Grill this Friday January 6, beginning at 5:30.
- Christine Smith highlighted the book giveaway that accompanied the toys delivered by Santa. A $1,000 Rotary District Simplified Grant was used to purchase books for various age groups. This year additional books were purchased for the older children, and even young parents were grateful to receive a book of their own. What a great way to encourage reading and improve literacy in our communities!
- The turnout for the Catholic Charities event was recognized as very good, and the volunteers were thanked.
- The annual elections for the club's board members was conducted, and the vote was unanimous. The officers are as follows: President, Brad Marx; President Elect, Janet Pancoast; Vice President, Debbie Mitsch; Secretary, Steve Tucker; and Treasurer, Terry Perkins. Directors include Darcy Dougherty, Ted Durant, and Christine Smith serving for one year. Bob Dworkin, Mark Roy and Larry Skaggs were elected to two-year terms.

President Bob then provided a year in review, highlighting many of the Club's activities and accomplishments in the year to date. The Club sponsored a foreign exchange student, formed a new interact club at Nevada State College and recently completed many acts of service. Past President Mike Soden provided an update on the charity fund, and he stated that the funds were running lower than in previous years. Mike said that the Club needs to consider additional fundraising events.

Jim Frey, acting as a substitute for happy dollars host Mike Peterson, then lead the group in trivia. Darcy Dougherty escaped fines by guessing that Italians wear red underwear for luck.

Happy Bucks and Dammit Dollars were contributed by Mark Roy, sharing that he froze while visiting family in Michigan, Alex Grodzinsky had a good time volunteering at Catholic Charities with his wife, Darcy spent Christmas in Springfield, Jim Paxton was happy with the 46" of new snow at Brianhead, Christine S. also had a good time volunteering at Catholic Charities and with Santa Hoolihan. Pres Bob donated dollars on behalf of the "best club in the district."

George Baggott's ticket was drawn for the raffle, but he didn't pick the joker so the pot will increase. The group then recited the Four-Way Test as lead by Past President Mike Soden, and the bell rang to adjourn the meeting.

An Open Letter to RCGV from Membership Chair Debbie Mitsch

As we all look forward to the New Year, I would like to ask all of my fellow Rotarians to consider an additional New Year's resolution at this time.

Please invite a guest to Rotary in 2017! Invite someone you know to breakfast. Remember, you are not asking them to join Rotary. Membership sells itself once visitors see for themselves what Rotary can offer:

- Friendship
- Professional Development
- Personal Growth
- Leadership Development
- Community
- Continuing Education
- FUN
- and more.....

President Bob has set a goal for our membership to reach 50 members this year. Think of how much more we can accomplish with more hands. Because we always lose a certain number of members for various reasons, we only grow out membership when we maintain an active new member recruitment program.

I look forward to your enthusiastic support.

- Yours in Rotary Service,
- Debbie Mitsch/Vice President
