This Week at Rotary:

Haven Hospice and Our Volunteer Program, Alexis Marler

Alexis Marler is the volunteer coordinator at Haven Hospice. She graduated with a Bachelor of Social Work in May 2019 from Missouri State University and went on to work in medical social work. Alexis started off as a social worker at Mercy Hospital and became interested in hospice through her experience there. Her grandma was also a hospice social worker for many years until she retired at age 74. She encouraged Alexis to take the leap and try out the field that she loved and felt helped her make a difference in the world. She has now worked in hospice for 2 and a half years, first as a social worker and then recently transitioned into the volunteer coordinator position. As a hospice volunteer coordinator Alexis is responsible for recruiting, screening, training, and supervising volunteers for the company. Additionally she does community outreach and education events to inform more people in our area about the services that hospice offers. She is passionate about the difference that hospice care can make in her patient's and their family's world at the end of life. Evenings and weekends Alexis can be found spending time with her husband, their 2 children, and her 2 stepchildren. They love going to the zoo, reading books, playing games, and all kinds of fun things.
