Sinclair Community College - or on Zoom "The Pediatric Mental Health Care Crisis"

Last year alone nearly 7,000 kids came to Dayton Children's in a mental health crisis. Behavioral health is the healthcare crisis for our kid's generation and the impact is being felt every day at Dayton Children's. In fact, the number one reason for admission at the hospital for the last two years has been for suicidal ideation. Come hear from Dayton Children's President & CEO, Debbie Feldman, about how Dayton Children's is reinventing the path for mental health care services for the kids in our region.

Chair of the Day: Jena Pado

This Happened Last Monday...

President Walt Hibner called the meeting to order at 12:13pm. Our President gave an update on Lorna Dawes and her procedure on May 10th. She's having some complications and is in rehab at Bethany. Bill Nance provided the invocation, What has God given us; a reflection on eyes, mouth, hands, and ears. Iris Juergens welcomed our guest today. Tom Carlisle was online; Michele Feltz brought Michael Newsome; Lisa Grigsby brought Qarriane Blayr from DDCDC; Keith Vaiquette was in attendance from KIND.

President Walt then announced two Foundation grant presentations to be presented by Holly Wiggins and Lisa Grigsby. Holly announced that seven grants were approved for the 4th quarter of $3000 each. And a total of 14 grants for the year totalling $42,000. Two grants presented today. 1) KIND – Kids in New Direction and 2) DCDC.

Chair for the Day, Adam Horseman introduced our guest speaker for the day, Raven Cruz Loaiza, a licensed Social Worker. Her presentation today was on Mediation Response Unit (MRU: A first in the Nation Alternative Response Program. The program was formulated after the police reform talks began in 2020. It is a City of Dayton program under the umbrella of the Dayton Mediation Center and an alternative response team that responds to low emergent 911 calls within the City of Dayton. There is a team of trained responders with a wealth of experience and certifications in areas such as crisis response, de-escalation, conflict resolution, community development and relationship building. The overall goal of the MRU is to work on improving community police relations through providing alternatives to police response in the community, reducing the number of 911 call for certain low emergent situations which allows officers more time for higher emergent calls, and providing an alternative response to 911 calls of various situations that incuse but are not limited to: noise complaints, neighbor/roommate disputes, barking dogs, loitering, unruly juvenile complaints and calls for peace officers. If there is a weapon present or a crime has been committed or a history of violence then these calls would not be for the MRU team but the Police would need to respond. There current hours are M-F 11 am - 8 pm with a plan to become 24 hours at some future date. The City applied for a grant to expand to be able to expand to mental health emergencies through the Crisis Response unit. The hotline number for the MRU is 937-333-2333. There isn't one area of the city that is requiring more calls. They seem to be distributed throughout the city. The Top 5 calls are neighbor disputes, peace officer, disorderly subject, juvenile complaints and noise complaints. Raven shared some of their success stories.

Next Week's Program: Our next meeting will be at Sinclair Community College on May 22nd and via Zoom. Speaker: Debbie Feldman, President & CEO of Dayton Children's.

Queen of Hearts ticket was drawn by Raven. The number was 453951 and the 7 of Clubs was drawn. The Queen of Hearts goes another week.

Our meeting was adjourned at 1:19pm by President Walt Hibner.
