

Membership Types

Honorary Rotarians

Honorary membership is used to recognize people who have distinguished themselves by meritorious service and embody Rotary ideals. Honorary members are entitled to attend all meetings of the club and others, wear the RI emblem, badge or other insignia, and enjoy all the other privileges of the club other than the right to vote or hold office within the club. They are exempt from paying dues and are not included in a club's membership numbers.

Rotarians – Active Membership Types:

Individual:

Individual membership is held by an adult who has demonstrated good character, integrity and leadership; has a good reputation in his or her business, profession and community; and is willing to serve in his or her community and around the world. Individual members are responsible for meeting financial obligations (pay quarterly dues), attendance requirements and service expectations. Active individual members are able to vote and hold office within the club.

Corporate:

Corporate membership allows for 2-3 employees of the same organization to participate in Rotary as active members. They are each considered active members of the club and have the same responsibilities of the individual member with the exception of attendance requirements. Corporate members are able to share the responsibility of attendance at regular club meetings. Only one representative is required to attend the weekly meetings. If more than one corporate member attends a meeting the same week, then they would just pay an additional meal cost. All individuals representing a Corporate membership are able to vote and hold office within the club. Club dues will be slightly more than an individual membership to account for RI, district and club dues, etc. The meal cost on the quarterly bill will only be for one representative to attend each regular meeting. (see attached sample bill for clarity)

R85 Rule for Active Members:

The Rule of 85 states that with Board approval, a Rotarian at least 65 years of age and with an aggregate of their years of service with their age being equal to or greater than 85, they will be excused from attendance. R85 active members are able to vote, hold office and still pay dues (meal costs are 50%).
