Program – May 29th

by Paul Ward

SPEAKER SUMMARY: Captain Jim Janickey, McLean (technically Dranesville) District Police chief, brought us up to date on the challenges facing the District as it experiences rapid growth of an increasingly diverse population. There is a considerable need to additional personnel and equipment, and there is hope that whatever budget increases the Fairfax County Police receive will be directed primarily at the McLean District Station.

Announcement

by Paul Ward

President Cherry	On the party front, 1) there was a good time had by all at the Baumbusch Barbecue Sunday evening; 2) there was great attendance at the recent Evo Bistro get together; 3) the installation dinner is set for July 11 at Redeemer Lutheran from 6:30 to 9:30 – Ann Vandemark is taking reservations.
Jan Auerbach	Jan echoed the good time at the barbecue, and announced she had distributed next year's organization chart. She also informed us that the McLean Rotary Club is being honored by the Safe Community Coalition for our part in supporting their efforts, including our participation in Ethics Day at McLean and Langley high schools.
Lynn Heinrichs	The students at Timberlane sent Lynn a special thank you card for our efforts in supporting their reading program.

Happy Talk

by Paul Ward

Chet Gray	Survived a canoe camping experience over the weekend.
Bob Hahne	Announced a $7,500 grant from the McLean Rotary Foundation to the RI Foundation, keeping us in the running for retaining our RI Foundation support through this year.

Nick Kalis	Let us know that his son, Peter, won 2 nd place in an information systems competition with his entry dealing with library systems.
Tom Mangan	Fined himself for being late.
Doug Megill	Both sons won their respective baseball games, and Doug was in the stands at a Nationals game when back to back home runs were posted by the Nats.
John Rosenbaum	Spent all of his weekend left over after attending the barbecue laying sod and his new digs.
Jan Auerbach	Had fun at the barbecue, and is looking forward to going sailing soon.
Ed Holman	Ed and Linda had a great time at the barbecue.
Vance Zavela	His baseball team got an unassisted triple play; Vance also celebrates the Marlin recent win.
John McEvilly	Not be outdone, John remembered when his son, now 31, got an unassisted quadruple play!
