VOLUME 110 NUMBER 10 – SEPTEMBER 3, 2024

SEPTEMBER 10, 2024

TIM LUZADER will be the money taker, CHRISTY PRESTON will be the money counter, and ALEA FAVERO will provide the moment of inspiration..

PROGRAM:

Here's what Amanda Kennedy shared with us: Amanda is a native of Benton County and a Purdue Alum. She enjoyed teaching art in the public schools for five years before becoming frustrated with the lack of resources. While taking a break to have her second child, she had time to think and determined that there was a need for art programs outside of school. After a couple of years of hoping to make something happen, in 2018 she rented 700 square feet of retail space downtown. During shutdown in 2020 and 2021 she shipped boxes of art projects all over the country. When the world reopened, she offered customized birthday parties and bridal showers, among other special events. These helped her to create a great community of parents. The business expanded to include adult activities and a free art gallery in the front of the store. She currently has an art studio on wheels to take to festivals. Amanda, having no shortage of ideas, is excited about the growth of her enterprise.

THANKS FOR YOUR HELP:

DID YOU KNOW?

...that our Perfect Attendance list indicates the number of consecutive months that a member has either attended all meetings or participated in a committee meeting, volunteer project, or social event to use as a makeup credit?

COLE PROFESSIONAL ACADEMY:

In February, we heard from Mike Pinto, the principal at Cole Elementary School. He spoke about a program for 5th graders that seeks to help them build important job-related skills. Would you be willing to participate in this program by speaking to the students about Rotary International and our Rotary club? If so, let STEVE PENNELL know. No date has been set yet for this presentation.
